REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE FOREIGN AGENTS REGISTRATION ACT OF 1938, AS AMENDED

JULY 1961

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED:

I have the honor to report on the administration of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended, pursuant to Section 11 of that Act which requires the Attorney General from time to time to report to the Congress concerning the administration of the Act as well as the nature, sources and content of political propaganda disseminated or distributed by agents of foreign principals registered under the terms of the statute.

This report deals with the administration and enforcement of the statute for the calendar year 1960, and is in supplement to the report submitted in June of that year which covered the five year period commencing January 1, 1955 through December 31, 1959.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

During 1960, ninety-six registration statements were filed and 154 registrations were terminated leaving 376 active registration statements on file as of December 31, 1960.

A list of persons who filed registration statements during the year identified by the registration number assigned to the registrant will be found in Appendix I, while an alphabetical list of these registrants together with the name of each foreign principal and a brief description of the nature of the agency is contained in Appendix II. A list of registrants whose statements were in an active status as of December 31, 1960, set forth according to the geographical area or nationality field with which the foreign principal is identified will be found in Appendix III.

When a registration statement is filed by a partnership, corporation, association, organization or other combination of individuals, each partner, officer, director, or other person rendering assistance to the registrant on behalf or in the interests of the foreign principal is required to file a short-form registration statement. During the calendar year covered by this report, 402 short-form registration statements were filed, and these are listed alphabetically in Appendix IV. The identity of the registrant in support of whose statement the short-form registration statement was filed may be determined by reference to Appendix I through correlation with the registration number.

An analysis of the 96 statements filed during the year reveals that the largest number was filed by persons engaging in public relations, advertising or other activities designed to influence American public opinion. A table showing the classification of statements according to the principal functions reported will be found in Appendix V.

The unusually large number of terminations which occurred in 1960 is attributable in part to the administrative ruling that bona fide travel agents engaged in the business of selling travel accommodations to residents of the United States for travel to the USSR and other Soviet-bloc countries would no longer be obligated to register. Initially, when the Soviet Union relaxed restrictions on travel to that country, only a few American travel agencies were authorized to sell the Intourist travel coupons necessary for the purchase of hotel accommodations, meals and transportation within the USSR. As the number of persons interested in traveling to the Soviet-bloc countries increased, more and more travel agents became authorized to make the necessary arrangements until the point was reached where arrangements could be made for travel in Soviet-bloc countries in the same manner as travel to European countries. Consequently, the Department ruled that travel agencies entering into agreements with Intourist Ltd., the official travel agency of the Soviet Union, or with official travel agencies of Soviet-bloc countries could avail themselves of the commercial exemption from registration as contained in Section 3(d) of the Act, provided the American travel agent did not engage in political activity as defined in Rule 100 promulgated under the Act.

NATURE, SOURCES AND CONTENT OF POLITICAL PROPAGANDA

The largest source of political propaganda disseminated within the United States continues to be, as it has for the past several years, the official foreign government information and tourist offices whose principal activities are designed to create good will toward their respective countries, promote tourism, trade and investment, and represent their government's position on various international issues.

During 1960, there were 61 government information and tourist offices registered under the Act. A total of $9,421,420 was expended during 1960 by these official government information and tourist offices for informational purposes in the United States. This represents an increase of $144,328 over 1959. An examination of the registration statements indicates that their main emphasis continued to be placed on the promotion of tourist traffic.

Great Britain continued to maintain the largest budget of any foreign government for informational purposes, both British Information Services and the British Travel Association spending over a million dollars each during 1960. A table showing the expenditure of each foreign government information and tourist office registered under the Act will be found in Appendix VI.

Foreign countries continued to rely upon American public relations concerns and consultants for advice as to the nature and content of their propaganda material circulated within the United States. This of course is reflected in the large number of public relations firms, consultants and advisers which are registered under the terms of the statute. Appendix VII contains a summary showing the amounts of money received by American individuals and organizations during the calendar year covered by the report and included in the list are the names of American public relations advisers and consultants who have been retained by foreign governments during this period.

The following propaganda trends were noted in material disseminated by the countries or geographical areas listed below:

Algeria. The Algerian Front of National Liberation which named as its foreign principal the Algerian Front of National Liberation Delegation, Cairo, United Arab Republic, disseminated during 1960 through its office in New York City press releases and pamphlets dealing with the Algerian struggle with France for self-determination. This material contained numerous statements issued by the provisional government of the Algerian Republic, speeches made by officials of that government, and other material presenting the Algerian point of view. Of interest was a so-called White Paper issued by the Algerian Office on the application of the Geneva Convention of 1949 to the French-Algerian conflict.

Arab States. The Arab Information Center which represents all of the governments of the League of Arab States, extended its operation during 1960 by opening two new branches, one in Dallas, Texas and the other in Coral Gables, Florida. The Center with its main office in New York City and previously established branches in Chicago, San Francisco, Washington, D.C., and Ottawa, offers a wide variety of information services including publications, documents, photos, films, maps and speakers.

Featured among the publications disseminated by the Arab Information Center is "The Arab World," a glossy print monthly magazine containing information on the cultural, social, economic and political developments in the Arab countries. In addition, the Center disseminates a semimonthly newsletter entitled "Arab News and Views." This is a news digest which reports the Arab position with respect to the problems of the Middle East and reviews the economic and social progress of the respective Arab countries. According to the dissemination reports filed by the Arab Information Center, it also disseminates a wide variety of pamphlets the circulation of which varies from month to month. These reports reflect that in August of 1960, 26,000 persons and organizations received copies of this material. Some of the pamphlets disseminated in that month carried the following titles: "Immigration to Israel;" "Arab Unity;" "Algeria Speaks;" "Strife in the Holy Land;" "British Imperialism in Southern Arabia;" "Arab-Israel Conflict" and "Arab Refugees and the Palestine Problem." Additional pamphlets circulated in the fall of 1960 carried titles such as "Violation of Human Rights in Algeria;" "Palestine Partitioned" and "Exodus: A Distortion of the Truth."

Material relating to the Palestine-Arab refugee problem was also disseminated by the Palestine-Arab Refugee Office.

China. The Chinese News Service, registered under the Act as the information agency of the Republic of China, Taipei, Taiwan, issued weekly news bulletins in both English and Chinese. These bulletins set forth the Nationalist Chinese Government's views on such subjects as its opposition to the participation of the Chinese Communist Government in any international disarmament conference, the defense of the Matsu and Quemoy Islands and the economic development of Nationalist China.

Cuba. Propaganda material sponsored by the Cuban Government was disseminated in the main during 1960 by the various Cuban consulates in the United States and by the New York and Miami offices of the Cuban Tourist Commission. This material extolled the achievements of the revolutionary reforms instituted by the Castro government and accused the United States Government of many forms of aggression. Particular stress was placed on the progress of the agrarian reform movement and other changes in the Cuban economy. Circulated within the United States, too, were reprints of speeches by Cuban leaders before such international bodies as the United Nations and the Organization of American States. These speeches contained charges that the United States was harboring and aiding Cuban war criminals, supplying arms and material to rebel groups within Cuba and that it permitted flights over Cuban territory in order to drop propaganda leaflets.

During 1960 an attempt was made through the medium of a New York public relations firm to attract American Negroes as tourists to the many Cuban vacation resorts which had been suffering from lack of normal tourist traffic. The propaganda disseminated in connection with this effort stressed the absence of discrimination and segregation in these resort areas.

France. The French Government Tourist Office was the principal source of information regarding tourist attractions, transportation facilities and accommodations in France.

The Comite France Actuelle distributed within the United States its publication "France Actuelle" which is a fortnightly information bulletin about France and French affairs. It contained featured articles on economic and political developments with particular stress on the policy of the French Government in giving freedom to its overseas territories.

Ghana. The Government of Ghana Information Section of the Embassy of Ghana disseminated during the year a bimonthly pictorial magazine called "Ghana Today." This publication contained information with respect to Ghana's political and cultural achievements with particular emphasis on the Volta River project designed to provide hydroelectric power for Ghana's industries. Statements by President Nkrumah were given considerable space, particularly the statements made by the President in his speeches at the United Nations and his meeting with President Eisenhower. Also emphasized was the contribution of Ghana to the UN forces in the Congo.

Great Britain. The British Information Services distributed daily a summary of the principal comments published in British newspapers in a publication entitled "Today's British Papers." Paralleling this is a weekly publication entitled "Summary of British Weeklies." Some of the topics upon which considerable comment was made were Prime Minister Macmillan's tour of Africa and visit to the United States; the French-Algerian war; and the Summit Conference in Paris.

British Information Services also distributed a publication called "British Affairs," a quarterly review containing articles written on political, economic and cultural matters. Included were articles on Britain's defense efforts and the growing export of Aero-engines.

India. The Government of India continued to disseminate through its Information Center the publications known as "Indiagram," "India News" and "India Economic Newsletter." Considerable space in these publications was devoted to the coverage of Soviet President Marshal K. E. Vorashilov's visit in January 1960, Khrushchev's five-day visit in February of that year and the visit of Chinese Premier Chou-En-Lai. India's proposals for lessening tension along the Sino-Indian border also came in for comment. These publications also gave India's views on the Congo problem and the situation in Laos.

Indonesia. The Information Division of the Embassy of Indonesia disseminated information through a weekly newsletter and a publication entitled "Djakarta Dispatches." In these publications extensive coverage was given to the visit in February of Prime Minister Khrushchev to Indonesia.

Israel. The Jewish Agency for Israel continued to disseminate periodical press releases, a "Bulletin" prepared by its Department of Education and Culture, a poster entitled "Israel Among the Nations" and the "Israel Digest of Press and Events in Israel and the Middle East." The last is a fortnightly publication featuring news commentaries covering foreign affairs, economic achievements and educational, scientific and cultural developments. Articles in the Digest expressed Israel's desire for peace in the Middle East and the world and in particular stressed the assistance given by Israel to the new nations of Asia and Africa. Articles in the Digest discussed the problems connected with the Egyptian blockade of the Suez Canal and expressed Israel's hope for the eventual freedom of navigation of the Canal. There was extensive comment on the capture of Adolf Eichmann, the resulting dispute with Argentina and Eichmann's forthcoming trial.

The Israel Office of Information, as in the past, disseminated a publication entitled "Israel News Briefs," press releases and a monthly newsletter entitled "Land of the Bible." In addition, according to the dissemination reports filed by the Israel Office of Information, the Office furnishes upon request radio programs, films and pamphlets dealing with Israel's economic advancement and other topics.

Korea. The Korean Research and Information Office which is registered as an agent of the Government of the Republic of Korea distributed "Korean Survey" containing a number of articles on the economic and cultural life of Korea. The Information Office also distributed what it called a "Teachers' Packet on Korea."

Soviet Union. As indicated in previous reports, neither the Soviet Government nor any of the Soviet-bloc countries maintains an official government information or tourist office in the United States. There was established, however, during 1960 a New York Office for Intourist, the Soviet agency charged with the handling of all traffic arrangements to the Soviet Union, to facilitate arrangements for tourist traffic to the USSR. Generally, Soviet materials are disseminated within the United States by the Four Continent Book Corporation, Imported Publications and Products, Artkino Pictures, Inc., Edwin S. Smith, Crossworld Books and Periodicals, and Crosscurrents Press. Dissemination of the USSR Embassy Bulletin is undertaken by Select Magazines, Inc.

Generally speaking, Soviet propaganda extolled the superiority of socialism over capitalism and the eventual supremacy of the socialist system throughout the world. Soviet propagandists continued to point with pride and confidence to the emergence of the Soviet Union as one of the two leading world powers within less than forty years. Principal credit for this achievement was given to what is described as "the dynamics of socialism." Among other dominant themes of Soviet propaganda were peaceful coexistence, disarmament, a ban on nuclear testing, removal of impediments to East-West trade relations and other matters which were described as the means of easing world tensions and achieving world peace. According to Soviet propaganda, refusal by the Western countries to submit to Soviet conditions is generally interpreted as resistance to peace efforts and as proof that the West has no desire to ease world tensions.

One of the principal highlights of Soviet propaganda during 1960 related to the U-2 flight, which was adduced as proof of the utter disregard by the United States of the sovereign rights of other nations. The U-2 incident was also used to explain Khrushchev's refusal to see President Eisenhower in Paris.

LEGISLATION

Two proposed amendments to the Foreign Agents Registration Act were recommended by the Department to the Congress in 1960.* The first would amend Section 1(b) of the Act so as to include within the definition of the term "foreign principal" a domestic corporation, organization or other combination of individuals which is substantially directed, financed or controlled by a foreign government or a foreign political party. At present, the Act defines such a domestic organization as a foreign principal only when it is subsidized by a foreign government or a foreign political party or other foreign principal, regardless of the extent of control or direction which may be exercised by the foreign group over the domestic organization. Consequently, agents of domestic organizations which may be substantially directed or controlled by a foreign government or foreign political party do not at present come within the purview of the Act. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to close this loophole in the statute.

The second proposed amendment would clarify the provisions of the so-called commercial exemption from registration in order to make it abundantly clear that it is available only when an agent engages in non-political and private, commercial or financial activities in furtherance of the bona fide trade and commerce of the foreign principal.

ENFORCEMENT

It was found necessary to institute but one criminal proceeding during 1960 to enforce the provisions of the Foreign Agents Registration Act. This was an indictment returned on May 3, 1960, in the Southern District of Florida against Hector Garcia Soto and William J. Shergalis for failure to register as agents of the Government of Cuba. Shergalis had been imprisoned by Cuban authorities on March 21, 1960, and the indictment against him is still outstanding. Defendant Garcia was acquitted by the jury.

Still pending in the courts is the case of United States v. Alexander L. Guterma, who was indicted in September 1959 for failure to register as the agent of the Dominican Republic. Trial of the defendant Guterma began on May 16, 1960 and on May 18, 1960, the defendant withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of nolo contendere to Count 2 of the indictment, which plea, over the objection of the Government, was accepted by the court. While imposition of sentence was pending, Guterma sought to withdraw his plea and plead not guilty. His appeal from the trial court's denial of his attempt to withdraw his plea is now pending in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The Department has continued to rely on its normal sources of information and on the investigative efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the administration and enforcement of the statute. In administering the Act it has continued to emphasize its main and original purpose -- the full disclosure of activities within the United States by agents of foreign principals so that the Government and the people of the United States may be informed of the identity of such persons and may appraise their statements and actions in the light of their associations. Registration under the Act does not imply recognition by the United States Government either of the de jure existence or legality of the foreign principal nor does registration indicate approval by the United States Government of the registered agent or of the propaganda material which he disseminates.

Respectfully,
