Attachment A

Japan External Trade Organization (JETRO), Tokyo, Japan

The Japan External Trade Organization (JETRO), established by a special law in Japan, is a non-profit, Japanese-government supported organization dedicated to promoting mutually beneficial trade and economic relations between Japan and other countries.

In the United States, JETRO currently maintains officers in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Los Angeles, Houston, and Atlanta. These offices provide information relating to the Japanese economy and business as well as U.S.-Japan economic and trade relations and engage in various activities to promote a mutual understanding of U.S.-Japan economic and trade relations. The functions of JETRO's U.S. Offices are believed to be similar to those of the United States Trade Center (of the United States Department of Commerce) established in Japan.

As the Chicago-based office of the Japan External Trade Organization (JETRO), JETRO Chicago provides to public officials, corporations, associations, individuals and any other interested parties information and materials relating to various aspects of Japanese economy and business, as well as U.S. -Japanese economic and trade relations. JETRO Chicago also monitors the development of U.S. economic and market conditions for JETRO.

City of Osaka, Japan:

Until March 31, 2010, JETRO Chicago also served as branch office of the City of Osaka, Japan. As such, JETRO Chicago engaged, to a limited extent, in activities to promote mutually beneficial economic and business relations between the United States and the City of Osaka. As part of such activities, JETRO Chicago provided information and materials relating to the City of Osaka. It also monitored U.S. economic and market conditions for the City of Osaka through this period.
