Response to Question 12

Embassy of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

No political activities.

Government of Antigua and Barbuda

No political activities.

Government of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Registrant had a meeting with the Solicitor General's Office on behalf of the foreign principal concerning the Supreme Court's February 19, 2016 order requesting the views of the United States on the pending certiorari petitions in the Helmerich & Payne litigation. The meeting included other agency officials as well, at the Solicitor General's discretion. The meeting with the Solicitor General's Office, as well as subsequent communications with the Solicitor General or other agency officials taken in the course of the Helmerich & Payne litigation, was limited to the respective interests of the United States and the foreign principal in the litigation: generally speaking, the scope of foreign sovereign immunity under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act. While we believe that contacts with U.S. Government officials regarding the aforementioned litigation qualify for the exemption under FARA section 613(g) for "persons qualified to practice law," we nevertheless have submitted FARA registration in case the nature of such contacts might be deemed to exceed the scope of the exemption.

The following chart reflects contacts undertaken on behalf of this principal.
