Korea Economic Institute

Future of Korea Series Program
Hosted by the Pacific and Asian Affairs Council
World Affairs Council of Hawai'i
June 15–18, 2009

Program Description:

The Korea Economic Institute and the World Affairs Councils of America jointly sponsor a series of programs designed to broaden and deepen understanding of Korea and the U.S.-Korea relationship among public opinion leaders and other interested individuals in the United States. The series, called the Future of Korea, usually entails panel presentations on Korea in cities throughout the country.

The core event of the program is a panel discussion, often involving a luncheon or a dinner, sponsored by the local World Affairs Council. This program will feature Mr. Paul A. Loh, Office of Korean Affairs, U.S. Department of State, and Mr. Greg Scarlatoiu, Korea Economic Institute. The two panelists will address issues including: political, security and economic issues pertaining to U.S.-Korea relations; the Korea-U.S. Free Trade Agreement; North Korea; and recent developments on the Korean peninsula.

In addition to the core event, the program often includes an additional event at a local university or high school. For the June 2009 program organized with the Pacific and Asian Affairs Council, World Affairs Council of Hawai'i, the additional event will consist of a simulation of Six Party Talks on North Korea's nuclear program, conducted by Ms. Nicole Finnemann, Korea Economic Institute, for an audience including, but not limited to, the twenty-two high school students and two teachers who will be sponsored by PAAC to travel to South Korea for a two-week summer study tour.

Speakers:
