Special Fashion Edition

September 2006

Belgium to participate in the first ever World Fashion Week - World Fashion Awards in LA.

Brussels - All things Fashion: In 2006 the city celebrates Brussels Year of Fashion and Design. Check out some of the special events. The possibilities are unlimited, unusual fashion and design routes, great exhibitions, a designer trail, a design fair, special hotel Fashion and Design deals and even fashion rooms are awaiting the fashionistas and those just dying to find out the latest trends. Discover the ultra-cool, trendy, vibrant, buzzing and stylish world of fashion. Order our Spotlight on Brussels Creative Design or Brussels, The fashionable districts brochures today!

Crack the code to the city: The annual Brussels fashion designers' trail takes place October 27 to 29. The originality and generosity of the formula is the secret of its success: a designer chooses a place – a bookshop, a florist's, a restaurant, a designer boutique – and sets up his or her creations there. A refreshing way of cracking the code to the city and learning as much about its young talents as about the surrounding areas! The Modo Bruxellae Fashion Designers' Trail has been all the rage in Brussels for a long time now come and find out why.

Salon Design Brussels: Held at the foot of the Atomium, alongside the very trendy home and decoration fair Cocoon, Brussels Expo hosts the new Design Brussels fair November 19 to 27. There's no doubt that, together, these two fairs, which are now called the Maison & Déco (Home and Decor) Fairs, form the biggest event of their kind open to the general public. A platform reserved for young designers from Brussels and elsewhere provides an opportunity to discover their latest designs there and perhaps even purchase some of them! MORE

Fashion at Galerie Ravenstein: The fifties are in fashion among our designers and Galerie Ravenstein, an arcade lined with little shops, linking the Palais des Beaux Arts with downtown Brussels, is taking center stage and making room for real showcases of Fashion and Design. Through November, three successive exhibitions can be enjoyed on the spot and in complete freedom. The Galerie, a temple to Art Deco, was once the setting of the Design Centre, an outstanding springboard of Belgian industrial design in the sixties. Free admission from 6 a.m. to 11.30 p.m. MORE Fashion Stories: Don't miss this special exhibition held through December 31 at the Costume and Lace Museum in Brussels. Scouring the most famous public sales, constantly in search of precious new acquisitions, the city's Costume and Lace Museum shows off the splendor of its latest gems to the public. An ode to creative design from the 18th century to the present-day, breathtaking ball gowns, sparkling costumes and fine lace all tell their own story. Costume and Lace Museum, rue de la Violette, 12. More information on this and other city museums go here.

Plan a fashion shopping trip: Shop till you drop in Brussels or Antwerp and stay in one of the Fashion Rooms of the Royal Windsor in Brussels or take advantage of the special Fashion and Design packages offered by The Conrad Hotel and Le Plaza Hotel. What could be better than returning home with a cool outfit from one of the up and coming designers? Visit Antwerp who has its own fashion center: the ModeNatie, home of the Flanders Fashion Institute (MoMu) and the Antwerp Fashion Academy. For lace lovers find out everything there is to know about the art of lace making and visit Bruges. Last but not least do not forget to claim your TAX REFUND. Check out how here. October 2006

European Christmas Market: A holiday shoppers' delight! In addition to the Christmas Market the ice skating rink offers fun for all. This year for the first time a separate small skating rink invites toddlers to enjoy this wonderful winter sport too. And the holiday atmosphere would not be complete without a visit to the Grand'Place decorated in festive lights for the occasion. For the many activities visit the website of Plaisirs d' hiver. Special hotel offers are also available.

Christmas in Bruges and Antwerp: In December the city of Bruges transforms into a magical Christmas wonderland. Imagine Christmas and carillons concerts, Christmas markets and The Procession of the Eastern Star in a city crisscrossed by canals. Winter in Bruges is a month long celebration of the holidays. And in Antwerp the 10th annual Christmas market opens on the market square. An ice skating ring promises winter fun for all ages. Nativity scenes are on display in many churches and Christmas concerts abound.

Christmas Village in Liege: In the heart of the city of Liege 155 decorated wooden cottages form a magical Christmas Village throughout the month of December. The Eastern part of the country is also an ideal place to spend a few hours. Don't miss the opportunity to attend a Christmas concert given by regional choirs and musical societies during the period of Advent, when the Christmas lights appear! For information please contact the Tourism Office of the East Cantons at Tel: 0113280/22 76 64 Fax: 0113280/22 65 39. MORE International Adolphe Sax Competition: Dinant, the hometown of Adolphe Sax, inventor of the saxophone, will host the International Adolphe Sax Competition. October 31 through November 12. For more information email. A visit to the city of Dinant is always a treat. Don't miss the view from the 16th century citadel over the city and the Meuse river. For more information on Dinant and the surrounding area click here.

Ensor and the avant-gardes by the sea: The coast has always been a strong attraction for artists. Ensor was born in Ostend, in 1860, and, except for three years spent at the Brussels Academy, from 1877 to 1880, he lived in Ostend all his life. Don't miss this exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art in James Ensor's hometown. On show in Ostend through February 7, 2007. MORE.

Retrospective Leon Spilliaert: Sixty years after his death the Royal Museums of Fine Arts in Brussels focuses attention on the original and extensive oeuvre of Leon Spilliaert. More than 300 works illustrate his stylistic diversity and the range of subject matter he covered. On show through February 3, 2007. For more information contact the museum. MORE

St. Hubert Festival: Solemn High Mass, fanfare of hunting horns and blessing of the animals in the Ardennes town of St. Hubert. A special event held November 3 at the 16th century basilica. Annually thousands of devout pilgrims visit St. Hubert. In the church are reputed relics of the saint, including both hunting-horn. The quaint town of St. Hubert is ideal for starting your discovery of the many beautiful villages of the Ardennes. MORE

The Last Witness: The museum "In Flanders Fields" sets out to tell the story of the last, silent witness: the front line. Photographs, films and documents bring the silent site of the Ieper Salient to life. The exhibition runs through November 19. MORE. For information on visiting Ieper click here. Upon visiting the town join the many visitors in a tribute to the fallen soldiers when the Last Post is sounded at the Menin Gate. This very moving ceremony is held daily at 8 pm.

What's Happening in Belgium in 2007

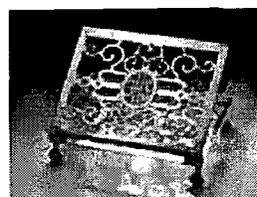

December 2006

100th Anniversary of the birth of Tintin's creator Hergé: Next year Belgium will mark the birth of Tintin creator Hergé (Georges Remi, or RG) with a Tintin fresco greeting visitors arriving at Brussels South station. The unveiling of the fresco will take place on January 10, 2007 to coincide with the official 'birth' day of Tintin, in 1029 in the paper Le Petit Vingtième. MORE

Rubens Exhibition: The Royal Museums of Fine Arts in Brussels will host a major exhibit of the works of Peter Paul Rubens from September 24, 2007 through January 27, 2008. The Royal Museums of Fine Arts have a unique collection of over fifty original works from the studio of Rubens and they will be joined by important loans from museums such as the Prado of Madrid and the Alte Pinakothek of Munich. The Fall event not to be missed!

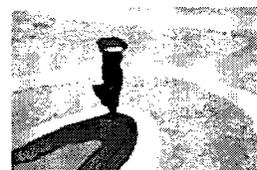

52nd Antique Fair: Combining quality with prestige, this superb antiques fair is a must for art lovers. The fair is held at the "Tour & Taxis" site which is a wonderful example of Belgian industrial heritage. The show is a treasure trove for antiques, art, silver, furniture and works of art from the 'Haute Epoque' to the 20th century. In Brussels from January 19 through January 28, 2007. While in Brussels discover the Sablon area, home to the many antiques stores and the antique market taking place every Saturday and Sunday. MORE

Prayers and Portraits: Don't miss this show at the Royal Museum of Fine Arts (KMSKA) of Antwerp. The exhibition runs March 3–May 27, 2007. The temporary reunion of Jean Fouquet's "Chevalier diptych" will be one of the highlights of this exhibition. The imposing museum building, a romantic temple of art, houses an outstanding collection of paintings, sculptures and drawings from the fourteenth to the twentieth centuries.

Carnival of Binche: This world famous Carnival, now on the UNESCO heritage list, dates back to the 16th century. The colorful celebration attracts thousands of visitors and is highlighted by 'Mardi Gras', an event not to be missed. Binche, February 18 through 20, 2007. Visit this small town (about 34 miles south of Brussels) that is also home to a very interesting Carnival and Mask Museum. See the UNESCO website and for additional information email: info@carnavaldebinche.be MORE

Retrospective Leon Spilliaert: Sixty years after his death the Royal Museums of Fine Arts in Brussels focus attention on the original and extensive oeuvre of Leon Spilliaert. More than 300 works illustrate his stylistic diversity and the range of subject matter he covered. On show through February 3, 2007. For more information contact the museum. MORE

Festival of the Fantastic Film: A delight for lovers of thrillers and science fiction films. Attend or take part in the make-up or body painting competition, the unusual processions or the compulsory Vampires' Ball. Visit the thematic exhibitions which are staged in parallel to the festival. In Brussels, April 5 through 17, 2007 For more information contact the festival directly. MORE

Mid Lent Carnival: Don't miss the fun! Come and partake in the Blancs Moussis festivities and parade in Stavelot held March 17 through 19, 2007. A particularly joyful experience is the tossing of confetti by the ton at virtually anything that moves; motorized cannons shoot confetti at the crowds and with skillful aim also target second floor flats along the parade route. There is even a society that gives out a monthly newsletter dedicated to the Blancs Moussis and the town of Stavelot. MORE
