Response to Question 11

Equatorial Guinea

Cassidy & Associates (C&A) aided Equatorial Guinea in advancing its goals in Washington by advising Equatorial Guinea of available US assistance programs and advising US policy makers of progress that the government of Equatorial Guinea made on human rights training to create mechanisms to eliminate trafficking in persons issues, improvements of detention facilities, malaria eradication, national education reform advancement programs, and by making information about Equatorial Guinea available to the general public through an official website.

In addition, C&A worked with the US Government and the Equatorial Guinea Government for progress in Equatorial Guinea in the following areas: human rights, malaria eradication, the Social Development Fund with USAID, U.S. Embassy expansion in EG, police training, the Roadmap with the US State Department, democratic reform, IMET, EG environmental and wildlife protection, -US energy cooperation, Gulf of Guinea security.

C&A assisted Equatorial Guinea in developing and maintaining a website and advised them on communications issues so that US audiences – government officials and the general population – could gain a better understanding of the country and its government's decision making policies and programs. Some specific topic areas targeted are health care, infrastructure, education, economy, conservation, and current events.
