During the reporting period, I continued to assist the National Security Council of Georgia (NSCG) in formulating and implementing means to communicate the rationale and merits of the positions and policies of the Government of Georgia, including assistance with developing the content of such communications, provision of advice and assistance in the implementation of such communications; assistance in the drafting and preparation of articles, speeches, op-ed articles and position papers; and coordinating the activities of three public relations firms in the U.S. retained by NSCG: Gephardt Government Affairs, Orion Strategies and Podesta Group.

Specifically, during the reporting period, I wrote and edited speeches delivered by the Secretary of the NSCG, Eka Tkeshelashvili, and other senior officials of the NSCG and drafted op-ed pieces and letters to the editor that were submitted directly to various publications by Mr. Tkeshelashvili and other senior officials of NSCG, or their aides. (I did not, on behalf of NSCG or any of its officials, myself submit any articles or letters for publication).

I also drafted the contents for a weekly newsletter, Georgia Update, that is distributed by the Government of Georgia via e-mail to a permission e-mail list maintained by the Government of Georgia, and posted on a website created and maintained by the Government of Georgia.

The purpose of these activities was to promote and develop support generally for the foreign and domestic policies of the Government of Georgia, including Georgia's relations with Russia. The audience for these efforts includes, but is not limited to, the United States public and the United States Government.
