ADDENDUM

CASSIDY & ASSOCIATES, INC.

Scope of Work

During the ninety days of this contract the agreed upon mission is to design a strategic plan to guide future efforts to impact and influence official U.S. government attitudes toward the ICT and the Awami League government's use of those proceedings to threaten and silence political opposition. The first component is to complete a political assessment of how the opposition movement, and the Jamat-e-Islami in particular, is perceived by official U.S. policy makers, thought leaders in key foreign policy think tanks, and among select journalists in foreign policy media outlets. The assessment will inform the framework design process and lead to the development of longer term goals, objectives, and benchmarks to track progress. Collateral material will be created for governmental and community mobilization.

We will engage Members of the U.S. Congress to support a Congressional Resolution condemning the actions of the ICT and to use best efforts to include anti-ICT legislative language in the House/Senate Department of State Reauthorization bill and the House/Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on the Department of State, Foreign Operations and Related Agencies bill. In addition, we will conduct outreach to the Department of State (Central & Southern Asia Bureau and International Operations). Such initiatives are intended to cooperate with international partners to pressure the government of Bangladesh to suspend ICT proceedings.

The strategic communications experts on the team shall support the direct advocacy ongoing efforts to raise official U.S. and international awareness and education about the miscarriage of justice carried out by the Bangladesh International Crimes Tribunal (ICT) and the negative impact the proceedings have on human rights and democratic freedoms.

The initial communications efforts would focus on four main areas, including: (1) A comprehensive media audit cataloging and documenting what reporters, columnists and outlets have said regarding relevant topics in U.S. media outlets; (2) Development of media friendly campaign messaging for ongoing outreach; (3) Creation of a media plan to guide outreach and all communications efforts in the coming months; and (4) Preliminary organization of credible western third party spokesmen that can be authoritative and persuasive voices in the media offering credible messages critical of the ruling government's policies.
