REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE FOREIGN AGENTS REGISTRATION ACT OF 1938, AS AMENDED

JUNE 1960

TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED:

I have the honor to report on the administration and enforcement of the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended, for the five-year period from January 1, 1955 to December 31, 1959.

Section 11 of that Act requires the Attorney General to report to the Congress from time to time concerning the administration of the Act, including the nature, sources and content of political propaganda. The first such report covered the period from the date the administration and enforcement of the Act were transferred from the Department of State to the Department of Justice, June 28, 1942, to December 31, 1944. The next report covered the five-year period from January 1, 1945 to December 31, 1949. In 1950, to meet the increasing interest in the Act manifested by members of the Congress, the press, and the public, the Department initiated the practice of issuing a report each year for four consecutive years and for the fifth year a report encompassing all of the activities of the preceding five years. This is the third five-year report.

The policy and purpose of the Act, as declared in the 1942 amendment thereto, are to protect the national defense, internal security, and foreign relations of the United States by requiring public disclosure by persons engaging in propaganda activities and other activities for or on behalf of foreign governments, foreign political parties, and other foreign principals so that the Government and the people of the United States may be informed of the identity of such persons and may appraise their statements and actions in the light of their associations and activities.

The disclosure objectives of the Act are effected through the registration statements which individuals, organizations, corporations, and other combinations of individuals are required to file if they act or agree to act within the United States as agents of foreign governments, foreign political parties, or other foreign principals, as defined in Section 1(b) of the Act, unless such agents are exempt from registration under Section 3 of the Act.

The registration statements require detailed information as to the identity of the registrant's foreign principal, the activities which the registrant performs in the United States for his foreign principal, and the money which the registrant receives from or expends on behalf of the foreign principal. Such information is maintained in a current status through supplemental statements which are filed each six months during the continuation of the agency relationship.

In addition, the labeling and filing requirements of Section 4 of the Act contribute to the disclosure which the Act seeks to accomplish. Under that Section each registrant who disseminates any political propaganda through the United States mails or other instrumentality of interstate or foreign commerce is required to label such propaganda so as to inform the recipient thereof of the identity of the agent and of his foreign principal; that the disseminator is registered under the Act with the Department of Justice, where a copy of his registration statement is available for public inspection; that copies of such political propaganda are being filed with the Department of Justice; and that the fact of registration does not indicate approval of the contents of the propaganda material by the United States Government.

Registration statements and the supplements thereto are available for inspection in the offices of the Registration Section and photocopies thereof may be purchased at a cost of fifty cents a page.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

From June 1942, the date of the transfer of the administration and enforcement of the Act from the Department of State to the Department of Justice, to December 31, 1959, a total of 1,320 registration statements were filed under the Act. From January 1, 1955 through December 31, 1959, the period covered by this report, 459 statements were filed by agents of foreign principals, in comparison with 259 registration statements filed in the preceding five-year period. During the reporting period 296 statements were terminated, leaving 434 registrations in active status on December 31, 1959, whereas 271 were in active status at the end of the period covered by the preceding five-year report. In addition to reflecting the marked increase in the volume of registration statements, this figure also represents the largest number of active registration statements on file at the close of any year since 1942.

Appendix I of this report sets forth the names of all persons and organizations whose registration statements were in an active status at any time during the five-year period covered by this report, together with the names of their foreign principals and a brief description of the nature of the agency. Appendix II contains the names of all persons who registered during the period arranged according to registration number, and Appendix III lists, according to geographical area or nationality field, registrants whose public registration statements were in active status as of December 31, 1959.

A sharp increase is also evidenced in the total number of short-form registration statements filed by the officers, directors, partners, or associates of a corporation, partnership, association, organization, or other combination of individuals registered under the Act and by persons who render assistance to registrants in other than a clerical or stenographic capacity for or in the interests of the foreign principal. During the period here under review, 2,023 short-form registration statements, also referred to as Form FA-4, were filed by persons whose names are listed alphabetically in Appendix IV, compared with 1,301 such statements filed from 1950 to 1954. The identities of the registrants in support of whose statements these short-form statements were filed may be ascertained by reference to Appendix II through correlation of the registration number.

The filing of a short-form registration statement in support of a basic registration statement effects compliance with Rule 202 under the Act which provides that the filing of a registration statement by a corporation, partnership, association, or other combination of individuals shall not remove the necessity of filing a registration statement by individual members, employees, associates, and affiliates of such registrant who are required to register under the Act.

LEGISLATION AND OTHER CHANGES

The only legislation affecting the Foreign Agents Registration Act which was enacted during the five-year period was that which repealed Section 20(a) of the Internal Security Act of 1950. That Section had amended the Foreign Agents Registration Act by adding as a new class of "agents of foreign principals," as defined in Section 1(c) thereof, persons who have knowledge of or have received assignment or training in the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party. In my recommendation to the Congress that the Foreign Agents Registration Act be amended by deleting from it any reference to persons having knowledge of foreign espionage and sabotage systems, I pointed out that this recommendation was prompted by the Department's experience in attempting to enforce the registration requirements because of the difficulty in this type of case of proving the existence of an agency relationship as required by the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

The Act of August 1, 1956 (50 U. S. C. 851-857) repealed that section of the Foreign Agents Registration Act and established a separate statute requiring the registration of persons who have knowledge of or have received assignment or training in the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party, irrespective of any technical agency status or relationship.

The administration and enforcement of the Act of August 1, 1956, were assigned to the same Section which is charged with the administration and enforcement of the Foreign Agents Registration Act and thereafter the name of the Section was changed from the Foreign Agents Registration Section to the Registration Section.

Legislation was introduced at the recommendation of the Department to amend Sections 1(b) and 3(d) of the Act, but has not been enacted. The amendment to Section 1(b) seeks to add a new subsection thereto to include within the term "foreign principal" a domestic organization which is substantially financed, controlled or directed by a foreign government or foreign political party. Under the statute as now enacted, agents of a domestic corporation are required to register only if that domestic corporation is subsidized in whole or in part by a foreign government or foreign political party. The proposed amendment would broaden the scope of the Act by enlarging the class of persons who come within its purview. The statute in its present form does not encompass corporations organized within the United States which are controlled, supervised or directed by a foreign government or foreign political party but are not subsidized by them and consequently are not "foreign principals" within the framework of the Act. The amendment to Section 3(d), which contains the so-called commercial exemption from registration, was designed to clarify this Department's position that this exemption is available only when the agent's activities on behalf of his foreign principal are private as well as commercial and not when the activities meet only one of those criteria.

Changes were effected during the period in the rules and regulations governing the administration of the Act and in one of the forms required to be filed under the Act. On December 13, 1956, pursuant to the authority conferred by Section 10 of the Act, I issued an order adopting amendatory rules and regulations in order to eliminate those which had become obsolete as a result of amendments to the Act or because of changed circumstances and to incorporate new or revised rules designed to conform to such amendments and circumstances. Reprints of the Act and of the revised rules and regulations were made available in pamphlet form for distribution upon request.

In addition, Exhibit A, the short-form registration statement heretofore used under the Act, was replaced by a new short-form registration statement now referred to as Form FA-4, for use by officers, partners, directors, and associates of registrants and by other individuals who render assistance to the registrant for or in the interest of the foreign principal.

ENFORCEMENT

Generally, compliance with the requirements of the Act is obtained through established administrative procedures, as evidenced by the steady increase over the years in the total number of registration statements filed. Nevertheless, it was necessary during the period under consideration to institute prosecution in the following six cases, as compared to one prosecution in the preceding period:

U. S. v. Rumanian American Publishing Association, et al. (E. D. Mich.)

On June 13, 1956, a two count indictment was returned in Detroit against the Rumanian American Publishing Association and nine of its former and current officers. The Association, publisher of a weekly Rumanian language newspaper, "Romanul-American," was charged with having wilfully and unlawfully acted as a publicity and propaganda agent for the Ministry of Cultural Affairs of the People's Republic of Rumania without having filed a registration statement as required by the Act, and the officers were charged with having failed to cause the Association to register. On February 26, 1958, after having filed a registration statement under the Act, the Association entered a plea of nolo contendere to the first count of the indictment and was fined $2,000. The indictment was dismissed as to the individual defendants.

United States v. John Joseph Frank (D. C.)

On May 13, 1957, a four count indictment was returned charging the defendant with having acted within the United States as an agent of the Dominican Republic and of Generalissimo Trujillo without having filed a registration statement in compliance with the Act. The defendant was found guilty on all counts of the indictment on December 7, 1957. On October 20, 1958, the Court of Appeals reversed his conviction and remanded the case for a new trial on the ground that the prosecutor's attempt to connect the defendant with the Galindez-Murphy affair deprived him of a fair trial. Retrial commenced on March 5, 1959, and on March 12, 1959, after both sides had rested but before the case was submitted to the jury, the court accepted a plea of nolo contendere by the defendant to counts one and three of the indictment on the express condition that the defendant file an acceptable registration statement. The court had previously dismissed counts two and four of the indictment. The defendant was fined $500 on each count on March 20, 1959, after having filed a registration statement under the Act.

U. S. v. Jack and Myra Soble and Jacob Albam (S.D. N.Y.)

A six count indictment was returned on February 4, 1957, the first two counts of which charged conspiracy to violate the peacetime espionage statutes; the third count alleged a conspiracy among the defendants to act as Soviet agents within the United States without prior notification to the Secretary of State; the fourth count charged Jack Soble with the substantive offense; the fifth and sixth counts charged Jack Soble and Jacob Albam, respectively, with failure to register under the Foreign Agents Registration Act as agents of a foreign principal, the Soviet Union. Jack and Myra Soble and Albam entered pleas of guilty to the second count of the indictment, charging a conspiracy to obtain information relating to the national defense for the purpose of transmitting such information to the Soviet Union, and the remaining counts were dismissed.

U. S. v. George Zlatovski and Jane Foster Zlatovski

On June 8, 1957, a five count indictment was returned against the above defendants. One count of the indictment charged Jane Zlatovski with having acted in the United States as an agent of the Government of the U.S.S.R. without having filed a registration statement with the Attorney General under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended; the remainder of the counts alleged conspiracy to violate the espionage statutes and acting in the United States as an agent of the Government of the U.S.S.R. without prior notification to the Secretary of State. The defendants are fugitives from justice.

U. S. v. Arnaldo G. Barron (D. C.)

On November 17, 1958, Barron was indicted in the District of Columbia for having acted as an agent of Fidel Castro and the July 26 Movement of Cuba without having filed the registration statement required by the Act. On March 6, 1959, the defendant filed an acceptable registration statement and on March 16, 1959, the court accepted his plea of nolo contendere to the indictment. On April 17, 1959, the defendant was given a suspended sentence of five years and placed on probation for that period.

U. S. v. Alexander L. Guterma, Hal Roach, Jr., and Garland L. Culpepper, Jr. (D. C.)

On September 1, 1959, a three count indictment was returned in the District of Columbia in which the above individuals were named as defendants. The first count charged Guterma and Roach with having failed to register under the Act as publicity agents for the Government of the Dominican Republic; the second count charged that Guterma, Roach and Culpepper, as officers and directors of Mutual Broadcasting System, failed to cause the Mutual Broadcasting System to file a registration statement under the Act; and the third count charged a conspiracy on the part of all three defendants to evade the registration requirements of the Act. The indictment alleged in part that the defendants, Guterma and Roach, in their capacities as President and Chairman of the Board, respectively, of the Mutual Broadcasting System, agreed to utilize the facilities of that System for the purpose of disseminating propaganda within the United States favorable to the Dominican Republic in return for the payment of $750,000 from the Government of the Dominican Republic. The defendants entered pleas of not guilty and at the close of the period covered by this report, trial was pending.^{1/}

NATURE, SOURCES AND CONTENT OF POLITICAL PROPAGANDA

During the five year period covered by this report over 63,000 pieces of political propaganda were filed with the Department of Justice pursuant to Section 4 of the Act, which requires every registrant under the Act to file with the Attorney General copies of political propaganda which the registrant transmits or causes to be transmitted in the United States mails or by any instrumentality of interstate or foreign commerce.

The largest source of political propaganda has continued to be the official foreign government information and tourist offices whose activities are intended to create good will toward their respective countries, promote tourism, trade and investment, and present the positions of their governments on various international issues. During 1955-59, fifty-six such offices representing thirty-six countries expended more than thirty-eight million dollars in furtherance of these objectives, which exceeded by eleven million dollars the amount spent for the same activities in the 1950-54 period. In 1959 these offices reported the expenditure of over nine million dollars and the employment of 803 persons, both figures representing a substantial increase over the expenditures and employees reported in the preceding year. As in the past, the British Government spent the largest sum of money and had the largest number of employees in this field, with the French Government making the second largest outlay.

^{1/} Trial of the defendants Guterma and Roach began on May 16, 1960, after the indictment against the defendant Culpepper had been dismissed on motion of the Government. On May 18, 1960, Guterma withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of nolo contendere to Count 1 of the indictment and Roach withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of nolo contendere to Count 2 of the indictment. The pleas were accepted by the court over the objection of the Government. Imposition of sentence is pending.

Appendix V contains a table showing the expenditures and number of employees of government information and tourist offices as reported during each of the years covered by this report.

As the Appendix discloses, the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc countries do not maintain official government information offices in the United States. Political propaganda concerning those countries is disseminated in this country through their diplomatic missions or other media of circulation. In pursuance of its informational activities the Soviet Embassy in August 1956 began publishing the magazine "USSR" which is distributed in the United States under a reciprocal agreement between the Governments of the U.S.S.R. and the United States which provides for the distribution of "USSR" in the United States and the magazine "Amerika" in the Soviet Union. In addition, considerable Soviet-bloc material is imported and sold in the United States by Four Continent Book Corporation and Imported Publications and Products, which are registered under the Act as agents of Mezhdunarodnaya Kniga, the official Soviet government organization for the distribution of books, periodicals, newspapers and other printed matter outside the Soviet Union, and which continue to be the principal outlets of Soviet propaganda in this country. In 1959, two new agents of Mezhdunarodnaya Kniga, Crosscurrents Press, Inc., of New York, and Rose Rose of Chicago, doing business as Cross World Books and Periodicals, filed registration statements under the Act.

Changing political situations throughout the world are reflected in the contents of political propaganda filed under the Act. The activities in the United States of adherents to and representatives of revolutionary causes, the reported growing opposition to recognized foreign governments in many parts of the world, the continuing or growing contention in relations between various countries and between foreign governments and their colonial possessions result in an intensification of efforts by opposite factions to influence the American people in favor of their causes. The services of publicity agents and public relations counsel are employed in furtherance not only of that purpose but also in the promotion of tourism and the encouragement of investments. Appendix VI contains a summary of the fees and expenses received by American individuals and organizations from their foreign principals for the five-year period reported upon herein, including all American public relations advisers and consultants who have been retained by foreign principals during that time.

Propaganda trends as described hereinafter were noted in the material disseminated by the countries or geographical areas listed below:

Algeria. The Algerian Front of National Liberation (FLN) has had representation in the United States for the past three years and has continued during that time to disseminate in the United States a news bulletin entitled "Free Algeria" and other pamphlets dealing with the Algerian struggle with France for self-determination.

In addition, several pamphlets carried reprints of memoranda from the FLN to the United Nations requesting an investigation into the Algerian question and setting out background information concerning FLN's view with regard to the Algerian war which ended its fifth year in 1959.

Arab States. As in the past the Arab Information Center provides a wide variety of information services including press releases, documents, photos, films and film strips, information tapes and speakers. Featured among the publication services of the Center is a monthly magazine entitled "The Arab World," a glossy print magazine containing articles and photo essays about cultural, social, economic and political developments in the Arab countries. The Center also disseminates a bi-weekly newsletter, "Arab News and Views," which includes briefs and editorials on domestic and foreign affairs. In all publications are expressions of Arab unity and solidarity with emphasis on the achievements of the Arab League as, for example, the establishment of the Arab Development Bank. The mentioned publications also express the Arab position with respect to its controversies with Israel such as the territorial claim of the Jews to Palestine, the Israeli transit through the Suez Canal, the treatment of minorities in Israel, the position of the Palestine Arab refugees and the effect of continued Jewish immigration to Israel.

In addition to the above material from the Arab Information Center the Registration Section has received several bulletins from the Embassy of the Republic of Iraq. These bulletins concern only the development of Iraq and feature such articles as "The Achievements of the Iraqi Revolution," "Oil Affairs," "Iraq Withdraws from the Baghdad Pact" and "The Iraq-Iranian Border Question."

The Palestine Arab Refugee problem is treated singularly by the Palestine Arab Refugee Office in a monthly newsletter. This Office also disseminates news releases, commentaries on proposals introduced in the United Nations bearing on assistance to the refugees and a book containing a compilation of documents, pledges and resolutions on Palestine.

Cuba. The advent of Cuban exiles to the United States during the first portion of this five-year period resulted in the formation of various Cuban revolutionary groups and a consequent increase in the dissemination of propaganda both by these groups and the Government of Cuba. The revolutionary groups sought to discredit the Batista regime in the eyes of the American public and to enlist sympathy and support for their revolutionary cause. They attempted primarily to influence public opinion in the United States to terminate arms shipments to the Cuban Government and to raise funds to prosecute its revolutionary efforts.

The Batista regime, on the other hand, countered this attack with propaganda defending its administration of the Cuban Government and sought to inspire confidence in its policies. It accused its revolutionary adversaries of domination and control by Communist influences and publicized the alleged Communist backgrounds of many of its leaders.

Following the fall of the Batista regime in January 1959, and the accession of the revolutionary government in Cuba under Fidel Castro, a complete reversal of this propaganda situation occurred. A new flight of exiles from Cuba to the United States brought about the creation of another group of organizations dedicated to the overthrow of the Castro government in Cuba. Through its propaganda these groups accused the present Cuban Government of being Communist dominated and of following policies which by excessive executions and confiscation of property violated basic personal and property rights.

The Castro regime in its counter propaganda denied all charges of Communist domination and defended its policies concerning the execution of counter-revolutionaries as well as its land reform program and the expropriation of foreign business properties in Cuba. It recounted the benefits accruing to the Cuban people during the first year of the revolutionary government and accused the American press of distorting the truth concerning Cuban affairs. In the latter portion of 1959 its propaganda protested aircraft flights over Cuban territory which originated in the southern part of the United States. Faced with a decrease in its tourist trade and foreign investments, the Cuban Government late in 1959 also increased its efforts through publicity and propaganda to recapture this tourist trade and to interest United States capital in Cuban investments on terms acceptable to the revolutionary government.

Dominican Republic. During the period of this report the principal outlet within the United States for propaganda on behalf of the Dominican Republic was the Dominican Republic Information Center, Inc., which terminated its registration under the Foreign Agents Registration Act on March 4, 1959. This agency disseminated material dealing with various aspects of the Dominican economy until Generalissimo Trujillo and the Dominican Republic were accused of responsibility for the disappearances of Jesus de Galindez and Gerald Lester Murphy. Thereafter, considerable material was issued to refute these allegations. Special emphasis was placed upon the favorable findings reported by Morris Ernst, the attorney employed by the Dominican Government to investigate the so-called Galindez-Murphy affair. Dominican propaganda during this period also included considerable material on Communist aggression in the Caribbean area which also emphasized the role of Trujillo and the Dominican Government in opposing this threat.

Dominican opposition movements in the United States during this period continued to disseminate propaganda critical of the present government of the Dominican Republic. This material accused the Trujillo regime of tyranny and oppression, charged it with responsibility for the Galindez-Murphy disappearances, condemned the Morris Ernst investigation as self-serving, blamed the Dominican Government for the murder of one of its naval officers and threats to his family in the United States, expressed opposition to attempts of the Dominican Government to obtain loans from United States lending agencies and protested the continued refusal of the Dominican Government to grant safe conduct to thirteen persons who sought asylum in the embassies of Venezuela and Ecuador.

For the past several years the Registration Section has been receiving a booklet printed and published in the Dominican Republic by the Caribbean Anti-Communist Research and Intelligence Bureau under the editorship of Cziegler Istvan, described as a former Hungarian Army Colonel. Its articles emphasize the Communist threat in the Latin American countries by exposing the Communist strategy and tactics in these areas and attempts to show the economic and cultural penetration in these countries by both Soviet Russia and Red China. A considerable portion of this material is also devoted to an expose of the Communist forces and influences in the present revolutionary government of Cuba.

Israel. The Jewish Agency for Israel continued to disseminate the "Israel Digest of Press and Events in Israel and the Middle East," a biweekly publication dealing with economic achievements of the State, domestic problems and foreign affairs. Cited in this publication among the signs of progress toward Israel's stated goal of economic independence were the improved balance of payments, stability of the State's prices and the increase of her foreign currency. Mentioned as chief among Israel's domestic problems was the creation of suitable conditions for the absorption of the mass immigration. The Digest also concerned itself with international affairs with emphasis on the sources of tensions between Israel and her Arab neighbors, such as the seizure and confiscation of Israeli cargo at Port Said, the Arab Refugee problem and troop concentrations on the border.

In addition to the Israel Digest, the Jewish Agency disseminated a pictorial magazine for youth entitled "Israel Youth Horizon," periodic press releases, and a "Bulletin" prepared by its Department of Education and Culture.

The Israel Office of Information published the "Israel News Brief" as well as press releases and reprints of statements made by representatives of Israel before the United Nations. It continued to disseminate the monthly newsletter, "The Land of the Bible."

China. The Chinese News Service, registered under the Act as the information agency of the Republic of China, Taipei, Taiwan, continued to issue weekly news bulletins in both English and Chinese. These bulletins set forth the Nationalist Chinese Government's views on such subjects as the Chinese economy, education, and defense of the Matsu and Quemoy Islands, with considerable space being given to discussion of the Tibetan problem. The bulletins also emphasized what the Nationalist Chinese Government believes to be the failures of the Chinese Communist Government on the mainland.

India. Through its Information Service the Indian Government published and disseminated its "Indiagram," "India News" and "India Economic Newsletter." A review of India's propaganda reveals that emphasis was given to assailing the Chinese Communists for their incursions along India's northern frontier, while at the same time advocating admission of Red China into the United Nations. A major portion of the propaganda related to India's economic development and plans for a third five-year plan. India's border dispute with East Pakistan also continued to be emphasized. While providing sanctuary for the Dalai Lama, India at the same time opposed the discussion of the Tibetan issue before the United Nations.

Indonesia. Th propaganda disseminated by the Information Division of the Embassy of Indonesia continued to be primarily in the form of news releases. One of the chief items stressed was the Djakarta Military Court trial of American Pilot Allan Lawrence Pope, who the Indonesian Government claimed flew a series of bombing missions for the "Permest Rebels" over Indonesian territory in 1958. Considerable emphasis was given to the banning of alien retailers in rural areas by the Indonesian Government, in what the Government referred to as a first step toward the implementation of "guided economy."

Japan. Tourism and trade promotion continued to be the subjects stressed by the various public relations firms representing Japanese Governmental agencies. The United States Japan Trade Council disseminated material in opposition to a proposed United States embargo on Japanese salmon and to United States restrictions on the importation of cotton textiles. The Council also distributed material opposing an increase in the United States import duty on stainless steel table flatware from Japan, emphasizing that "curtailment of any one export would spell a serious blow to the economy of Japan which serves as the one single most stabilizing force for peace and democracy in the Far East."

Pakistan. The Embassy of Pakistan disseminated a publication called "Pakistan Affairs," which is published biweekly. This publication carried primarily propaganda relating to the economic life of Pakistan, with emphasis on the achievements under the first five-year plan and the land reforms in West Pakistan. Another item receiving emphasis was the Pakistan version of the Indo-Pakistan border disputes.

France. As in the past, most of the material distributed by the French dealt with that country's economic achievements and tourist facilities. The publications issued by the French Government Tourist Office pointed out France's attraction to the American tourist.

"France Actuelle," which describes itself as "A fortnightly Report for Americans on Modern France and the French Community, published by the Comite France Actuelle, a Private Association of French Businessmen," featured articles on economic and political developments. Among the topics included in this report were France's membership in the European Economic Community (Common Market) which went into operation in the beginning of 1959; the encouragement by the French Government to foreigners to invest in France; and General de Gaulle's declaration with regard to the Algerian problem and the possibilities for a solution to restore order.

Germany. The Press and Information Office of the German Embassy issued during 1959 an information kit "prepared to help fill the continuing need for facts about Berlin on the eve of the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference in Geneva." In addition, a pictorial magazine was distributed designed to acquaint the reader with the people, institutions and activities which have played a part in the German recovery during the years 1949-1959. The Executive Committee of the Social Democratic Party (SDP) continued during the period covered by this report to publish a bulletin entitled "News from Germany" which was disseminated in the United States and contained SDP's views with regard to the Berlin issue, reunification of Germany and setting forth in general the platform of the SDP. Also distributed in the United States was tourist information issued by the German Tourist Information Office.

Ghana. Since its establishment in 1958, the Government of Ghana Information Section has disseminated a mimeographed publication entitled, "Ghana" and a bimonthly pictorial magazine entitled "Ghana Today." Both publications contain information concerning Ghana's political, economic and cultural achievements since its independence in 1957. Particular stress was given to the Volta River project to provide hydroelectric power for proposed Ghana industry; statements made by Ghana's Prime Minister, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, with regard to events in Africa, and Ghana's position as to non-independent African countries; Dr. Nkrumah's visits to India, West Africa and England; and the return visit of Britain's Prince Philip.

Turkey. The Turkish Information Office, which disseminates the bulk of Turkish propaganda, distributed in 1959 pamphlets devoted to the visit of the Turkish Prime Minister, Adnan Menderes, to the United States; the visit of President Eisenhower to Turkey; and Turkish culture and travel information. In the years prior to the settlement of the Cyprus problem in 1959, a considerable portion of the literature distributed by the Turkish Information Office was concerned with presenting the Turkish viewpoint in regard to the Cyprus issue.

Great Britain. Britain maintains, as it has for a number of years, the largest budget for informational purposes of all foreign countries operating official government information and tourist offices within the United States. Practically every question that concerns the British people in the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth countries and the British dependencies was touched upon by the British Information Services (BIS) through the media of printed matter, radio broadcasts, television and lectures.

Current British opinion with regard to international and domestic issues is reflected through the distribution of a summary of the principal comments published in British newspapers entitled, "Today's British Papers" as well as a weekly publication entitled "Summary of British Weeklies." The British view with regard to some of the more important current issues were set out in publications entitled, "Background to the News," "British Record" and "British Affairs," which were disseminated to the American public by the British Information Services. Some of these matters which were of particular interest or concern to the British people in 1959 were: the rejection by a United States agency, on the ground of national security, of an English company's bid to supply turbines for an Arkansas power project; Prime Minister Macmillan's trip to the U.S.S.R.; the signing of an agreement with regard to Cyprus; disturbances in Nyasaland and Malta;

the United States wool tariff; return of the Conservatives in the British general election; Britain's membership in the European Free Trade Association; and Britain's aid to underdeveloped countries.

In addition to the above-mentioned publications, the British Information Services distributed pamphlets and magazines presenting to the American people a glimpse into the social and economic life of the British people, the workings of the British Government and the ties that link it to the Commonwealth.

U. S. S. R. As stated previously, the Soviet Union does not maintain an official information office in the United States. Printed political propaganda in both the English and Russian languages was disseminated during the reporting period chiefly through the Four Continent Book Corporation and Imported Publications and Products and consisted of pamphlets, newspapers and magazines such as "Soviet Union," "New Times," "Soviet Woman" and "International Affairs."

The recurring themes of Soviet propaganda within this country during the period covered by this report stressed the unremitting efforts exerted by the Soviet Union for peace, the ultimate triumph of communism over capitalism in the world, and the solidarity that binds the Soviet Union to its Communist satellite states. The United States and its Western allies, on the other hand, were depicted as being in a state of decline, and therefore bent on war, torn by dissension and gripped by frustration.

The year 1959 saw no departure from this formula by Soviet propagandists. Premier Khrushchev was portrayed as the man of peace whose chief concern was the establishment of "peaceful coexistence" in the world. His trip to the United States and his efforts in securing agreement by Western leaders to a Summit Conference were regarded as tokens of this concern. Khrushchev's pledge to enter into a separate peace treaty with East Germany unless the West agreed to his proposals for an end to Allied occupation of Berlin was interpreted by Soviet propagandists as further proof that the Soviet Union was committed to peace, since it was striving over Western objections for a permanent and equitable settlement of the still unfinished business of World War II. The Soviet budget of 1959 was represented as a budget designed to promote peace with a diminution of expenditures for military purposes and an increase for economic development, education, social welfare and science. According to Soviet propaganda, the American budget was one designed for aggression and war with more than half of it allocated to military expenditures.

The successful launching of a Soviet satellite around the moon was seized upon by Soviet propaganda as an occasion to extol the supremacy of Soviet science and to presage the ultimate victory of communism over a decadent capitalism. According to Soviet propaganda, international communism has entered a new stage, the stage of accelerated building of a communistic society in the U. S. S. R. and completion of socialist construction in a number of people's democracies.

To bolster this claim, it was alleged that the United States was pervaded by a sense of frustration and discontent as manifested by the protracted steel strike and the difficulties arising from attempts to effect racial integration among the American people. Soviet propaganda claimed that dissension was growing between the United States and its allies and great significance was attached to the fact that France was withdrawing its fleet from the NATO command and refusing her air bases to American jet aircraft.

Registration under the Act does not imply recognition by the United States Government either of the de jure existence or legality of the foreign principal or indicate approval by the United States Government of the propaganda material disseminated by registered agents.

In its administration and enforcement of the Act the Department has sought to accomplish the stated policy and purpose of the Act, namely, the disclosure of persons engaging in propaganda activities and other activities for or on behalf of foreign governments, foreign political parties, and other foreign principals. In discharging its obligation in this respect the Department has continued to rely on its usual sources of information and upon the investigative efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Respectfully submitted,

Acting Attorney General
